COMPLETION

Design: 2011

Project Description:

Scope of work included landscape and sidewalk design for a residence on Jesselin Road designed by the late Architect Richard Isenhour. This design included the use of a mixture of Kentucky native plants and various other ornamental perennials, shrubs and trees. The concept was to provide a welcoming connection to the streetside walk where none was present and reduce emphasis on the driveway on this significantly Architectural home. Design completed: 2011 - Owner installation.
